

A Wonderful Record for Growing Prize Seed Made By a Peace River Farmer

Everyone is interested in the Peace River country, it is pretty close to home at that. For many years the country has been recognized as the world's greatest wheat country, but that is not all. It is the world's best wheat country because when Peace River wheat goes up against the best from all other places, such as Chicago seed and grain show, the Peace River carries off the prizes.

Not only is it a wheat country, but it is a general grain and hay country as has been demonstrated in no uncertain terms by Mr. Trelle, the king wheat growers. Just look over his record of winnings at the recent big show at Chicago:

He took seven first prizes for wheat, flax, rye, oats, peas, timothy seed and timothy hay.

He took the first twelve prizes for hard red spring wheat.

He took 18 prizes out of 25 for the new wheat which has only been out a couple of years and known as Burin wheat.

At the Toronto Winter Fair the first six prizes for wheat went to the Peace River country.

Reports from the B. C. Block in the Peace River country are most favorable indeed. Wheat ran as high as seventy-five bushels to the acre. The new government assisted flour mill erected at a cost of $25,000, is now running to capacity and turning out a first grade flour for the settlers in that country.

In the Bulkley Valley where some attention has been given to growing exhibition seed success has been achieved. Better timothy seed can be produced than what has been produced by more expert attention. As for the grains no attention seems to have yet been given to producing the prize winning stuff, but elevator officials have stated that the best wheat that has yet been received at the Prince Rupert elevator came from the Bulkley Valley. That should be an incentive to one or more farmers in the Valley to take up exhibition production. The land, the climate are ideal. The average crop will compare favorably with any in Canada, including the Peace River.

There is no necessity to take a back seat for any person, or for any place. Give the seed, the planting and the care, the threshing and the selection that is necessary, and the Bulkley Valley can win. It would be the greatest advertising possible, and would bring in more people who want to buy improved farms, as well as those who want new farms, than anything else could.

Remember, the Peace River country is not far from Bulkley Valley and the climate and other conditions are very similar.

NO ELECTION IN SIGHT YET

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Still Leader of the Conservative Party in B. C. and is Boss in His Own House

Premier Tolmie told the Conservatives at Nanaimo recently that there was no election in sight, and no need for an election. The present government has two years to go yet, and it was quite likely that the government would take the full time. The present was no time to go before the people. Everything is out of joint and there is no call for additional expense under present conditions. This government was doing everything possible to meet the difficulties, and any other government would only create new and additional burdens. At the same time the premier announced that he did not consider this a good time to call a general convention. It could do no good. If the party wants him to quite before another election and they say so, as a party, he is willing to have a convention when there is an election in sight. He said he would be glad to retire to his farm when he was no longer required by his party. He did not see eye to eye with him in all things.

In contrast to a few calls from Vancouver for a new leader the Premier of B. C. was given several ovations at the recent convention and Vancouver had to join in those ovations.

HEALTH INSURANCE IS COMING

Health insurance is one subject that will occupy a lot of time in the legislature next session. It has been before the house several times and has been getting a good deal of support of late years. Both political parties are committed to it, but the big question is to bring in a measure that is not going to disturb the provincial treasury. There is at present a belief that the Workman's Compensation Board will be given charge of the carrying out of the plan when it passes the legislature. It is not likely to be other than health insurance covering men who come under the workman's compensation act now, except that all illness will be covered. At present only accidents which happen while in the performance of duty are covered. The cost of the new insurance will probably be met by employer and employee as at present.

LOCAL SCHOOL CONCERT

The annual Christmas concert put on by the New Hazelton schools will be given this year on December 12 the last day of school. The program will consist of folk dances, songs, recitations, skits, and afterward bag of candy and fruit will be distributed among the fifty odd children. Refreshments will also be served. At a meeting of the citizens held last Thursday night it was decided to dispense with the public Christmas Tree this year but a collection has been taken up and sufficient funds are on hand for fruit and candy for all.

FARMERS FIND A MARKET

One of the occupations of the business men in Smithers is trading in local grains. The farmers of the interior, like all the rest of us, have no money but they have a lot of hay and wheat and oats. There are certain things the farmers have to have, and certain obligations they have to meet. So instead of trying to market their own products they are trading them in to business firms. A good many tons of produce are thus being disposed of and with benefit to all concerned. Incidentally the consumer is getting those products at a price never before possible in this neck of the woods.

CHAS. BARRETT AT CHICAGO

Won Fifth Place for Timothy Seed at The World's Biggest Show of Seed and Grain

Chas. Barrett of Barrett Lake, Bulkley Valley, won fifth place at the big Chicago seed and grain show for timothy seed. Mr. Barrett has been in the timothy seed business for some years, in fact he pioneered in it for northern British Columbia. His success is well deserved and everyone in the north will join in congratulations. Charlie Barrett is one of the real old timers in the north. For many years he made his headquarters at Hazelton where he had a big pack train. When the packing business was about to end he disposed of his interests and retired to his ranch at Barrett Lake. He also secured the old government ranch and for many years he has been making a specialty of timothy hay and of late years timothy seed.

HEN NO. 6 STILL ON THE JOB

Much credited and much maligned Hen No. 6, owned by the University of B. C., at one time egg laying champion of the world, is still working. In her six years of activity she has laid 351, 170, 196, 155, and 168 eggs. This is about 100 dozens or three and a third cases. The total weight of eggs laid to date has been about thirty-four times her own weight. The 168 eggs produced last year are more than 8 dozen higher than the average production per bird in the flocks of this province.

Conductor D. E. Murphy who has been on the local run for some years, is now in Rochester, Minn., undergoing medical treatment. He has not been particularly well for some time. He has many friends along the line who will be glad to see him back on his old run at an early date.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found invitations to the public to do their Christmas shopping at C. W. Dawson's new store and at the Up-to-Date Drug Store. These two firms have a stock of Christmas goods which they want to show you, and as you are going to do some Christmas buying anyway it is just as well to leave your money in the district where it will do some good and in a measure come back to you.

TREES DO NOT TRANSFER FOOD

It is true that when an animal feeds the entire body may be nourished as a result of the food taken into the system. In the case of plants, however, take fruit trees for instance—it has recently been discovered that certain parts of the top of the tree are closely linked with certain roots. The "soil food" needed to give normal branch development comes through the roots directly below those branches. Again the "air-food" needed to give normal root growth comes largely, if not entirely from the branches directly over and in line with those roots. That is there now appears to be relatively little cross-transfer of food from one part of the tree to another.

A suggested application of this information to fruit-growing would be to emphasize the importance of care in the distribution of fertilizers. The spread fertilizer in every second tree row would practically mean fertilizing only half of each tree. To get a general benefit such fertilizers should be distributed evenly, where it is equally available to all the roots.

George McBein has returned from the Babine Bonanza mine some miles from Telkwa, did will spend the winter at his home at Two Mile. George has been foreman at the mine for several years, and the property is now closed for the winter.

Watch Poultry Houses for the Bad Draughts

A simple or common cold in poultry may be designated as an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the head and throat probably resulting from some such cause as sudden change of climate. Hence it will follow the changing climatic conditions of autumn will be responsible for irritation of the membranes of the upper respiratory passages resulting in catarrhal conditions of these membranes. In an acute catarrh the parts become engorged with blood, the secretion of the membrane becomes more fluid in consistency and augmented in amount. Should the exciting cause be not too prolonged the engorgement subsides, the secretion returns to normal and the bird recovers. Unfortunately, in many instances the irritation is more prolonged, the secretion accumulating thus closes the nasal passages where it formerly escaped and with still further injury to the membranes they are broken sufficiently to permit the entrance of disease producing microbes.

It can hardly be said that roup is present until the latter condition has developed, but in any event acute roup has its inception as a common cold, though in many instances the early stages of the disease are passed so rapidly as to pass undetected.

The symptoms of a cold are not very striking, but should be watched for as they may be evidence of an impending attack of roup. When the cold is due to some remediable cause its correction will frequently abort the probable roup attack.

It has not been shown that colds are infectious in nature, but the contrary holds good regarding roup. The infection in the latter disease seemingly requires something as indicated to permit its penetration of the tissues and the resulting disease production.

Prevention and control—The exciting cause of colds, the forerunner of roup should be sought for and corrected. Perhaps the most fruitful in this respect is bad hygiene, and that which passes detection as such. Draughts will do more to precipitate these diseases than all other causes combined and should first be eliminated when looking for the cause. Even in what is believed to be modern house construction there is much to be desired in this respect, and the mere fact of a plan having been closely followed in the construction of the house should be no deterrent in the quest for possible draughts, and especially over the birds heads at roosting time. There are naturally other accusable factors but attention to the matter of draught alone will do much to curtail the annual crop of colds and roup at this season of the year.

London's Premier is home again.

LORNE CREEK PLACER GOLD

Prospectors also on Fraser and Skeena Rivers—New Showings on the Lorne Creek Grounds

Engineer Neville of Vancouver who represents one of the larger companies, has taken an option on S. A. Corley's gold property at Lorne Creek and is doing some work on it, first to get to bed rock. Corley has always had great faith in Lorne Creek and he now hopes to see his dream realized.

In his fall report to the Minister of Mines, and which was recently published, Douglas Lay, the resident engineer for the mines department, said that not for many years have there been so many individual prospectors working on the bars of the Fraser and Skeena rivers, and at a large number of other points. "It might be said that Lorne Creek on the Skeena river, has been rediscovered this year. Many new aspects of placer occurrence have been shown up on this creek as a result of activities of prospectors, notably Jim Jones and Mac Orr. Prevailing high water has impeded development, but promise is indicated at several points on this creek.

If you really want your money's worth, don't forget the variety concert on Saturday, Dec. 12th at Kitanmax Hall at 8.30 p.m., given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Hazelton Hospital. Two and one half hours of real entertainment for 75c children 25c.

There was a splendid turnout at the United Church bazaar in Hazelton on Friday evening last and the ladies received $140 as a result. There were work stalls, home cooking, candy etc and a miniature golf course. All the goods the ladies offered were disposed of and comments heard afterward were to the effect that some real good stuff was offered and at most reasonable prices.

VARIETY CONCERT IN AID OF THE HOSPITAL

A glance at the calendar reveals that there are just three days before a variety concert claims the attention of all the people who are looking for entertainment. The Woman's Auxiliary to the Hazelton Hospital are sponsoring the affair and the proceeds will go to a very needy cause, in aid of the hospital. For the information of those on the outside, the cast of over twenty in number consists of local talent with the exception of a noted Miss Vandermere of Vancouver, who is travelling east for the holidays and due to friendships sake has consented to step off, to assist the cause. The program is one ranging from snappy vaudeville skits to selections from opera and is fittingly rounded off with a one act comedy which should hold the audience spell-bound until the final curtain. A number of local organizations such as the Hazelton Glee Club and the Little Symphony orchestra are making their debut on this program. To say anything further concerning the program would only spoil it for those contemplating seeing it for themselves.

C. G. I. T. GAVE AFTERNOON TEA

The C. G. I. T. of New Hazelton, recently organized with Miss Jean Burn as leader, gave a tea last Saturday afternoon, their first effort at appearing in public. The affair was to get a few dollars in order to carry on the work they have undertaken. As a result of the girls' invitation a goodly number of their friends in town were present. Besides serving dainty refreshments the girls rendered a short program of songs, recitations, and dramatization of the first Christmas. The affair was very interesting and well put on. There was a quantity of home made candy for sale and it was all disposed of, and a Christmas cake donated by Mrs. Savile, was drawn for and was won by Sammy Senkpiel. The girls raised about fifteen dollars.

How Many Sales Transactions Do You Need?

An Advertisement addressed to our local retailers

It is possible for a retailer to calculate the number of sales transactions required by his business each day, week, month, year. Here's how the calculation can be made:

1. Sum up the estimated operating expenses for the year — the amounts required for rent, wages, delivery, supplies of various sorts, insurance, repairs, losses. Add, also the net profit one should have to reward his capital and enterprise.
2. Divide this by the total number of working days in the year—say 305, in order to get the average daily cost of operating one's business.
3. Ascertain the amount of the average sales transactions. (The daily records of individual sales, over a period of a month or so, will enable one to make this calculation.)
4. Reckon the amount of gross profit earned on an average sales transaction—20—25—30—per cent.
5. Divide the total average daily expenses by the profit on the average sales transaction.

Thus one gets the number of sales transactions required daily to recover the costs of doing business.

Issued by the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association.

ILLUSTRATION

Suppose that you find that your annual expenses including a desired net profit, total $4,000, or say, $13.11 per day; that your average sales transaction is 56 cents, on which the average gross profit, at 25 per cent, would be 14 cents. Then your required number of sales transactions per day would be $13.11, divided by 14, or 94.

Now, to assure an average of 94 sales transactions per day, rain or shine, will require you to be extraordinary diligent in the matter of attracting customers. Your windows should be made alluring. Your service should be courteous, prompt and pleasing, so as to make your customers willing "repeaters". Your range of merchandise should be good, and your prices should be competitive.

But these alone won't suffice to assure 94 sales transactions every day, on an average. You'll have to do a whole lot of inviting. Week by week your invitations to buyers ought to be published in this newspaper.

If you fail to issue cordial invitations, week by week, then your business is in a state of peril

N.B.

The accompanying illustrative example makes it clear that a retailer can check up his progress daily. Without a daily measuring of achievement against requirement no business management can be called safe.

BACK TO THE LAND PATTULLO

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, after a trip over the province, announced in Vancouver the other day that the present government had made an awful mess of the relief work program. He said a policy of putting men on the land would have been very much better. That statement should keep Mr. Pattullo out of the premier's chair for a long time, at least until consumption of farm products catches up with present production. Right now there is far more food on the farms than can be disposed of at almost any price. What would be the result if more men were put on the land?

Then, again, how many of the unemployed in B. C. today know which end you milk a cow from? There are a lot of things about a farm that is really foreign to store clerks, stock brokers, clerks, iron and steel workers, miners, office men and lumber jacks. The latter class could clear the land but the other fellows would only cut their feet off or get in the way of the horse and keep it from working. But practically any man can, with a little practice, handle a pick and shovel.

We do not think Mr. Pattullo could have been serious in advocating a land policy for the unemployed. But then it was different from what the government was doing.

NEW OIL AND COAL POLICY

Hon. N. S. Loughheed, minister of Lands, speaking at the Nanaimo convention recently, stated that a completely new oil and coal development policy would be introduced by the government at the next session of the legislature. The new legislation will result in lifting the blanket reserve on oil and coal lands, and allow them to be staked in smaller parcels than is possible under the present statute.

There is nothing which should arouse more interest in Northern B. C. than this announcement. It is in the northern part of the province that all new development along these lines must take place. No place else is the possibility so great as it is here, and it will not be all wild prospecting in there are now many proven areas. The new legislation will put new life into Northern British Columbia.

When Canadians are asked for bread they do not give a stone. The government of Canada recently asked for $150,000,000 and the people of the country came thru with $215,000,000 and there is lots more where that was taken from. The above amount was subscribed some 12 days before the date set for the application lists to close. The acting minister of finance announced that the government would accept the full amount subscribed and the extra $65,000,000 would be used to retire other loans.

As a result of a meeting of the Conservative Association of British Columbia held at Nanaimo recently, Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, premier of the province, is still leader of the party, and there is not likely to be any change for a long time, nor is there likely to be any request for a change even from disgruntled Vancouver.

HAVE PAID THE PRIZE MONEY

The Terrace District Fall Fair directors met in the Terrace Hotel last Saturday night. The balance sheet for the year's operations was presented, showing a deficit to date of 59c with revenue still to come in amounting to $35.00. It was decided to pay the prize money immediately, making it available for use of the winners for the holiday season. The question of the date of the annual meeting was left in the hands of the president, J. K. Gordon who will try to arrange for a joint meeting with the Terrace B. O. Trade, the Kitsumgallum Farmers Institute and the Fair Asso.

As the auditor had taken over the duties of the secretary half way during the year. E. T. Brooks was elected auditor for the balance of the year.

MONTHLY BOARD OF TRADE

At a monthly meeting of the Terrace and District Board of Trade held on Tuesday night the question of enlarging the council of board came up for discussion. The plan was advanced to make the council consist of all elected members of the council and such other members of the organization who might be present at any meeting. It was felt that as this was an extensive change to make to the constitution, it was better to defer the matter to the annual meeting.

NO ELECTRIC LIGHT IN TERRACE

Gas lamps, coal oil lamps were at a premium on Tuesday night when the Bishop electric plant ceased operations for some time. F. C. Bishop left for Prince Rupert on the night train, and before going closed his plant down. He has been complaining for some time of a falling off of revenue and he is still uncertain as to future developments. In the meantime the village streets are unlighted, and a reversion to lighting by means of oil products has been general, with the exception of those who have their own lighting plant.

Here and There

Canada has a bumper crop of potatoes this year with an official preliminary estimate putting the total 1931 yield at 92,558,330 bushels from 576,200 acres as compared with 80,401,660 bushels from 571,300 acres in 1930.

Canada is the pioneer in fish culture on this continent. The first fry hatched from artificially fertilized eggs in Canada were produced in 1858 and fish culture was established as a Dominion Government service in 1867.

Britishers are eating Canadian eggs this year with their breakfast bacon. Estimates for 1931 place a figure of 20,000 cases, each of 30 dozen eggs, for export to Great Britain. Last year it was only 6,500 cases.

The fur trade is still one of Canada's big assets. In 1931 furs to the value of 550,000 francs were exported to France. Last year their value was placed at $17,187,399, mostly to Great Britain and the United States.

Grain traffic handled by the Canadian Pacific for October last shows a considerable increase over that carried for October, 1930. A total of 17,921 cars was loaded last month from the Prairie Provinces as compared with a total of 13,573 cars in October, 1930.

Idle since the first week of October, the mill of the British Empire Steel plant at Sydney, N.S., is again in operation, giving full time employment of six days a week to upwards of 200 men. They are rolling soft steel for a number of orders recently placed with the company.

With a trail mileage of 7,162 miles to his credit and having to date seen 424 moose, 69 caribou and 494 deer in New Brunswick, E. L. Pope, of Boston, Mass., is back in the New Brunswick forests on his 27th hunting trip in 29 seasons. He will spend several weeks on this trip.

Nat. Cornfoot, colorful golf pro at the Canadian Pacific Langara course, Vancouver, for the past five and a half years, sailed by the Empress of Russia recently for Tokyo where he will act as golf instructor at the Fuji Shokai Club course. This organization operates a huge indoor layout in addition to its outdoors links.

Major John W. Sifton, one of the proprietors of the Manitoba Free Press, Winnipeg, seated at his writing desk in his private residence at Toronto recently, pulled a lever which, through the medium of Canadian Pacific Telegraphs transmission wires, set in motion the new ten unit speed press just erected in the Free Press offices at a cost of $300,000. The new press has a rated maximum capacity of more than 100,000 forty-page papers per hour.

Twelve hundred colonies of screened bees and their accompanying queens from the Province of Alberta to China was the unique feature of the Canadian export trade to the Orient and of the shipments aboard the Empress of Russia recently. The European and American bee produces nearly twice as much honey as its Asiatic brother that has been exported by the Chinese since the time of Confucius. (799)

Cedervale Notes

The Patent-Teachers Association monthly meeting was held on Wednesday, Dec. 2. Arrangements were made for holding a Christmas tree and concert on Friday, Dec. 18, the closing day of the school.

Owing to the illness of the Cedervale correspondent the usual budget of news was not forwarded last week.

Advisability of dividing the province of B. C. into two by running a dividing line from the coast to the Alberta boundary, the line to pass between the 53rd and 54th parallels. That portion lying north of the line to be known as North Columbia with its capital at Prince George. The greatest obstacle so far raised to the plan is the difficulty to find enough honest men to handle the business of the new government if it were separated from the south. But as we are not looking for that which is impossible to find the next line of thought will show how ordinary persons can be used to advantage.—Cedervale Thoughts.

T. C. M. Turner is busy on improvements to the hall in connection with St. Matthews church. This hall, purchased last year from Mrs. Jas. Richmond, was moved up the hill during last winter and spring. The interior is being improved by sealing the walls with shiplap and Tommy is being assisted by volunteers from the congregation.

on to Mexico after the holidays and join his brother. Tony will probably spend the winter in Vancouver, and may locate there permanently.

J. J. McNeill of Telkwa spent part of last week at the coast.

Mrs. E. C. Dawson of Victoria returned to Smithers, her old home, on Thursday morning last.

One of the unpopular features of the new train service is that there are not now so many people at the various stations to greet one as one is passing through. The social aspect is much missed.

W. S. Sherriffs, the new grocer in New Hazelton told the Herald this week that it was surprising how well business was keeping up. Times are hard, he said, but the people are buying, and best of all, are paying cash.
Of course they are not going in for the luxuries, as of old. Sherriffs wants business and he asks for it through this paper. He puts his prices right and gives the service. In fact he has taken the lead for price and quality, and the buying public appreciates it.

George McBein has returned from the Babine Bonanza mine, some miles from Telkwa, and will spend the winter at his home at Two Mile. George has been foreman at the mine for several years, and the property is now closed for the winter.

Luke Fowler, a well-known Hazelton Indian and weather prophet, is also a well known placer miner, has returned from his property on Mansor Creek. He has great faith in his own ground, and while he was sick most of the time he should have been mining, he still has a good meal ticket to carry him through the winter, and give him some grub for next spring. Luke says there is lots of gold in the Manson Creek country, but there are no many prospectors.

A party of Hazelton Chinamen who have been faithful placer miners in the Omineca district, but without much success are now on their way to make a clean-up. Some time ago they took in a Chinaman from the Cariboo who is a top notcher at the game, and he takes his hat off to none. He has a drift tunnel sixty feet wide and getting values all across with rich ground in the centre of the old channel.

Mrs. Mary Rankin who will be remembered with kind thoughts by a lot of people in this district, is now residing in Aberdeenshire and is enjoying good health and life generally.
Many will think of her this Christmas season, and in a recent letter to Hazelton friend sent kind regards to all old friends here.

At the Vancouver Winter Show recently held J. C. Keller of Telkwa won third prize in the amateur potato growers class. Bulkley Valley can put the goods on the market. For the quality of northern produce there are few equals in any line.

Quantities of fur are being bought by C. W. Dawson in Hazelton. During the last few days quite a number of trappers have brought in their catches and considerable money is being put into circulation.

a system of look-out towers equipped with short wave radio sending and receiving sets.

ported recently from the Cain's River, New Brunswick, by G. W.
Scott, of Keene, New Hampshire, who was one of the party, and himself netted 111 of the fish.

More United States branch fac-
